AWH CAD 3D Data

Dear Sir or Madam,

The CAD files are simplified representations with a medium level of detail.
Due to conversion processes there could be minor deviations from the original.

We do not assume any liability for possible damages caused by the use of the files and would like to point out as a precautionary measure that you will not be automatically informed in case of revision changes.

Please note that the CAD files are exclusively intended for use in the construction in your house or with your customers.
A publication or other use not explicitly released by us is prohibited.

Yours sincerely,

Design Engineering Management
